Dear <redacted>,

The Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 (the Order)

Premises: HMP Pentonville, Caledonian Road, London, N7 8TT

The Crown Premises Fire Inspection Group is the enforcing authority under Article 25 of the above legislation.

I am writing to you as a person responsible under the above Order for ensuring that persons are adequately safeguarded in case of fire at the above premises.

Following an inspection at the above premises on 30th December 2016, the Inspector is of the opinion that you have failed to comply with the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 (the Order), and considers that formal action is required to achieve compliance. I enclose an Enforcement Notice issued under Article 30, which requires you to take adequate steps to remedy these failings within the above premises, as set out in the schedule.

In the event that a long-term solution cannot be implemented immediately, you will need to introduce interim measures to reduce the level of risk whilst longer-term measures are being prepared.

Successful approaches to assessing and managing risk can be provided by accepted guidance, BS9999: 2008 or fire engineering calculations. Each of these requires the involvement of a person with comprehensive training or experience.

In the Inspector's opinion, completion of the proposed remedial steps detailed in the schedule will achieve a satisfactory minimum standard of fire safety in the premises. Alternative ways of achieving an equivalent standard may be available and any request for the Inspector to consider alternative proposals should be submitted as a matter of urgency. Additional time is unlikely to be allowed for completion of any alternative proposals unless such requests are received promptly.

You should seek the approval of relevant persons (e.g. freeholder) and relevant authorities (e.g. Building Control, Licensing Authority, etc.) prior to carrying out any works on the building.

Under Article 35 of the Order, you have the right to appeal against the terms of this Notice to the Magistrates Court. Your attention is drawn to the notes that accompany this Notice.

Notwithstanding compliance with the attached Notice, the Chief Fire and Rescue Adviser may still consider further legal action for identified breaches of the Order, and therefore compliance with this Notice will not prejudice our right to take such further action.

A copy of this letter has been sent to those identified at the foot of this letter who may also be responsible for the safety of persons in case of fire.

If you do not understand the steps you must take, you can contact me using the address or telephone number above. This will not have the effect of suspending the Notice or extending the time for you to comply.

If you do not feel that you are responsible under the Order or if you believe that the contents of the schedule are incorrect, and that you do not need to take action in respect of any matter, then you should send your written reasons to the Chief Fire and Rescue Adviser at the above address within 28 days of the date of this letter.

Under Article 35 of the Order, you may also appeal to the court within 21 days from the day on which this notice was served. This will have the effect of suspending the Notice whilst the court deals with your appeal.

Yours faithfully
